CAMBIOTICS

TESTIMONIAL.

For me, it was about hope.

There aren't many solutions out there,
and when I learned that Cambiotics was actually working on ways to reduce PFAS in the body, I felt like I had to at least look into it.

Mom and wife

THE DECISION.

I'm a mom and wife living in New Hampshire. Most of my daily life is focused on family, managing my health, and staying involved in my community. I later found out that where I grew up, there had been serious PFAS contamination, which put me and my family at risk without us even knowing it.

Because of my health conditions and knowing my history of exposure, I wanted answers. I needed to understand what was in my body and if it connected to what I've been dealing with.

THE REACTION.

Honestly, I was overwhelmed and angry.

It was validating in a way, like, okay, there's a reason for all this, but it's also scary when you realize you've been carrying these chemicals inside you for so long.

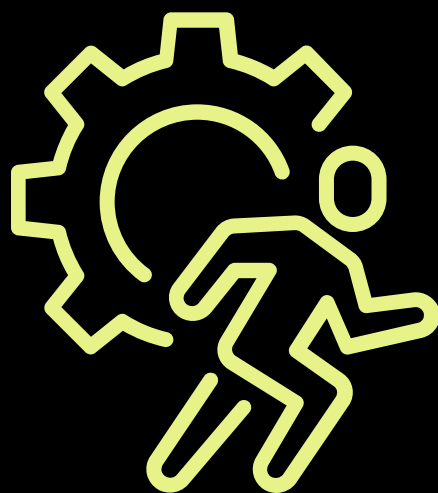

CAMBIOTICS

THE ACTION.

Because most people don't realize how widespread this is, and you can't fix what you don't know. Testing gives you the information to advocate for your health.

I started researching, looking at ways to support my body, filtering my water, and being really careful about what products I use. That's also what led me to Cambiotics.

THE ADVICE.

I get it, sometimes not knowing feels safer. But the truth is, knowing your levels gives you control. You can't take action without that first step.

PFAS exposure changes your life in ways most people don't see. Having something like 46& in the pipeline gives people like me hope, and that matters more than I can explain.
